

Join the GLOBAL COMPACT ON EDUCATION

OUR COMMITMENT

As part of the great human family and of the great community of life, we recognize the call of Pope Francis to join forces to walk together in covenant and fraternity at this critical moment in our history in which, as never before, the mutual interdependence of everything and everyone is made manifest.

As citizens of our societies and nations, we recognize the need to act and influence locally without ceasing to think globally, as we confront a cultural and anthropological revolution, which leads us to creatively rethink education, the economy, politics, and the concept of progress in the service of life.

As part of the Teresian Family of Henry de Ossó we firmly believe that education is one of the most effective ways to humanize the world and history. It is through this means that we want to contribute to making the world a more dignified place for everyone.

WE COMMIT OURSELVES, FROM OUR TERESIAN IDENTITY, TO:

Personally assume the principles and values of the Global Compact on Education and put them into practice in our educational activity and in our daily behavior:

- Become aware of and allow ourselves to be affected by the reality that Mother Earth experiences and that humanity lives and that has led to the need for this Pact.
- Put into practice simple, conscious, and responsible lifestyles.
- Participate in the civic and social life of our local and regional areas.
- Promote the culture of encounter and firmly reject the “throw away” culture.

Courageously reimagine our way of educating new generations according to the commitments that the Pope proposes in the Global Compact on Education:

- Listen to young people and their cries of indignation for a better world and accompany them in the common effort to transform this world.
- Form people who are capable of putting themselves at the service of the community and society.
- Find other ways of understanding the economy, politics and progress from the perspective of an integral ecology.
- Educate others and ourselves to be welcoming, opening ourselves up to the weakest, most vulnerable and marginalized.
- Ratify our commitment to the Teresian Educational Proposal

Establish alliances and networks with other institutions and organizations in order to promote cooperation, dialogue and participation so as to make the Global Compact on Education possible:

- Make collaboration in networks the way that we work as the Teresian Family.
- Put into practice a new citizenship which is at the service of reconciliation and the reconstruction of the social and ecclesial fabric.
